Lakota Way Healing Center

Recipient: South Dakota Board Of Geographic Names

Letter: Greetings,

HARNEY PEAK...CHANGE THE NAME For countless generations the most sacred mountaintop in the Black Hills of South Dakota, was known to the Lakota People as "Hinhan Kaga Paha" (Great Owls Nest). This place is also where Lakota Holy Man, Black Elk had his "Great Vision" when he was 9 years old.

In the late 1850's, it was named "Harney Peak" in honor of General William Selby Harney. In 1855 at Blue Water Creek, Nebraska, Harney attacked the peaceful village of Little Thunder, killing 86 Lakota, many were woman and children. Crazy Horse was a young boy in that camp and witnessed the horror. Harney also became a designer and primary signer of the dishonored Ft. Laramie Treaty of 1868. Seven generations later, we are petitioning for the Harney name to be removed from this sacred site.

We realize to the Lakota elders this peak will always been known as Hinhan Kaga, but we would like to honor the formal change on maps and signage, especially for the youth of the next seven generations.

PLEASE SUPPORT OUR CAMPAIGN.

Lakota Way Healing Center

Recipient: South Dakota Board Of Geographic Names

Letter: Greetings,

HARNEY PEAK...CHANGE THE NAME For countless generations the most sacred mountaintop in the Black Hills of South Dakota, was known to the Lakota People as "Hinhan Kaga Paha" (Great Owls Nest). This place is also where Lakota Holy Man, Black Elk had his "Great Vision" when he was 9 years old.

In the late 1850's, it was named "Harney Peak" in honor of General William Selby Harney. In 1855 at Blue Water Creek, Nebraska, Harney attacked the peaceful village of Little Thunder, killing 86 Lakota, many were woman and children. Crazy Horse was a young boy in that camp and witnessed the horror. Harney also became a designer and primary signer of the dishonored Ft. Laramie Treaty of 1868. Seven generations later, we are petitioning for the Harney name to be removed from this sacred site.

We realize to the Lakota elders this peak will always been known as Hinhan Kaga, but we would like to honor the formal change on maps and signage, especially for the youth of the next seven generations.

PLEASE SUPPORT OUR CAMPAIGN.

Paul Stover Soderman	Boulder, CO	2014-09-11	In the Heart of their Home, and the Home of their Heart...the time has come....to change the name
Kevin Hamilton	Redwood City, CA	2014-09-12	Places are given their name by those who care for them, it is a personal gift, the same as a person's name is given them. It should express that personal relationship and not abstract the places name from the people who live there.
Marc Esenwein	Louisville, CO	2014-09-13	Respect
Selina Berger	Blanco, TX	2014-09-18	This name need's to be changed like a murderer or rapist need's to be put to death or banished from the people. Just the reminder of it hurt's native american people everyday. The young man who was later known as Crazy Horse was the first Native American to come upon the site of the masacre. He told of his discovery of bodies in the village, mostly women and children. All of the bodies had been mamed and desecrated. After covering the bodies, he rode North following the military (and their prisoners). He soon came upon an indian woman who had attempted to escape the masacre, and had been trapped in a gully where her husband and baby had been killed. Crazy Horse became well known among his people for her rescue.
Philicia Robles	Appleton, WI	2014-09-21	Far to long has this insult to injury remained a terrible reminder of the atrocities of the past. What better way to reconcile these injustices and allow all those affected to heal and move forward together with mutual respect and dignity, both native and non native alike.
Shannon Smith	Boulder, CO	2014-09-25	I heard one of General Harney's descendants say recently he was in favor of the name being changed - I like to think - restored. He said his ancestor signed the Laramie Treaties and then, personally broke them and killed other people. I support our Native brothers and sisters in restoring sacred places under their care. This is a sacred place where Black Elk had his vision... that is what the Owl offers - sight. Let the name an integrity of the land's history be restored.
Britney Brightwell	Fort Collins, CO	2014-09-25	The black hills need to be returned to the people who hold them scared. This is a step in the right direction to see sacred lands returned to the Indigenous people &lt;3
Scott Barta	Wagner, SD	2014-09-25	Change it NOW
Patrick Rankin	Albany, NY	2014-09-25	I respect the Lakota people. I was once invited to a sweat lodge and able to learn many things about the Lakota people. And with the experience of the sweat lodge I was able to learn a lot about myself. I believe in this movement.
Dee Anderson	Amery, WI	2014-09-25	It is about time that the Black Hills are named for the Lakota people. It should not have the name of "Harney"
Michelle Weis	Sugar Grove, IL	2014-09-25	This land is sacred! Honor The Sacred!
Megan Dyrek	Spearfish, SD	2014-09-25	I'm signing because I believe that such an amazing point in the Black Hills which is sacred to many people should not carry a name that stems from violence and hatred. This is a small step we can take toward a nation free from such hatred and racism. There are so many reminders of the brutal history of the Black Hills, let's remove this from that list of reminders, and instead have it represent a time of reconciliation and respect for our fellow human being.

sandy greenfield	Harrisburg, SD	2014-09-25	As a lifelong resident of South Dakota I have always wondered why there are so few Lakota words used in our state to describe ANYTHING. ...landmarks, natural resources, highways. ...it is a travesty. The beautiful, sacred Black Hills, stolen through broken treaties is the worst reminder in our state of the treatment of our Native families. Please rename 'Harney' Peak. And; while we move in this direction, the Hills should be given back as a symbol of faith between our peoples.

James Greff	Belfield, ND	2014-09-25	It's the right thing to do
Brandon Brashers	Durango, CO	2014-09-25	I stand for justice and bringing sacred sites back to their original owners.
loretta hofman	Budgewoi, Australia	2014-09-25	The same reason that we changed Ayers rock to Uluru. Returning the land to its rightful name
Kate Somerville	Philadelphia, PA	2014-09-25	I like natural names for places, not politicians and military, it's not right. It's like saying corporations are people.
Barron Beshoar	Longmont, CO	2014-09-25	It's the right thing to do.
Allen Acosta	Elizabeth, NJ	2014-09-25	History needs to be accurate. Native teachings are on the rise like others.
stuart mueller	Australia	2014-09-26	I'm signing because it's wonderful to see, the "mainstream" do to speak are recognizing and embracing the spiritual and basically a shift in many people's priorities etc..also it's the right thing to do..
Nikkye Vargas	San Marcos, TX	2014-09-26	Return the Black Hills! Respect All Sacred Sites!
Keanan Robertshaw	Ellsworth AFB, SD	2014-09-26	I support indigenous land rights! One tribe!

Sharon Weber	Pacific, MO	2014-09-26	Because that is a Sacred Monument to the Lakota People which belonged to them before Harney came.
Corey Mascio	McKinleyville, CA	2014-09-26	I'm signing because I understand the value of making right the horrible wrongs of the genocidal colonization which was the founding of the USA. Please support changing the name. Thank you, Wopila.
Erika Rado	Bellingham, WA	2014-09-26	Because it is right. Change the name back.
Andy Busse	Rapid City, SD	2014-09-26	Justice
Carla Marshall	Rapid City, SD	2014-09-26	This is a sacred site to our people. General Harney was a murderer of innocent Lakota women and children. Change the name back to its original name of Hinhan Kaga Paha.
edna brillon	Boulder, CO	2014-09-26	I'm Native American
Kim van Nieuwkerk	BRIDPORT TAS, Australia	2014-09-26	This is sacred ground for the Lakota people. The original name has to be reinstated to Hinhan Kaga Paha, the most sacred name for a most sacred site. Not renamed for a white man mass killing of original owners. Not rocket science just respect.
christine cleobury	Shropshire, United Kingdom	2014-09-26	Firstly take responsibility for the horrors done by Western people towards the indigenous people and have RESPECT for the indigenous people of this land and change this name!

Pat Crow	Sister Bay, WI	2014-09-26	I was just in the Black Hills. Learning the history of the region made it difficult to enjoy it's beauty. We need to return the area to the Lakota. And this would be a start.
Jo Ellen Ryan	Canterbury, NH	2014-09-26	The mountain is sacred and its name was Great Owls Nest, NOT Harney Peak.....please reverse that decision!!!
Lois Huminiak	Chicago, IL	2014-09-26	I believe in the energy/ power of words and thoughts. By changing the name we take another step toward unity, forgiveness and peace
Anita Anderson	West Fulton, NY	2014-09-26	To honor a man that attacked and killed peaceful people on their sacred land is horrible and disrespectful to say the least. There is no honor here. We should feel shame and remove General William Selby Harney's reference from the peak and allow the Lakota peoples choose the appropriate name for the setting. It will bring the proper spirit to the land and cleanse the embarrassment.
Jeffrey Hanna Jr	Elverson, PA	2014-09-26	Because the children of this country deserve to know the truth!
adriana magana	ellenville, NY	2014-09-26	End the occupation of sacred spaces and honor the people and the land.

Nancy Owen	Lafayette, CO	2014-09-27	It is way past time to honor the American Indian and to stop memorializing those who slaughtered!
Malcolm Latwat	Kamloops BC, Canada	2014-09-27	It is important that history remember the best from our past not the worst. We must give hope to our youth or our world will fall into darkness.
Janet Graham	Portage, MI	2014-09-27	Coherence
Tracey Russo	Mountain View, CA	2014-09-27	Naming this peak after a man who did such an injustice to the native people is ludicrous.
Patricia Lind	Shasta Lake City, CA	2014-09-28	Because the mountain already had a name that is should keep in order of first nations, and spiritual leader Black Elk.
Cate Roberts	piedmont, SD	2014-09-28	feels right to honor the Lakota rather than soldiers and the white always
Jane Bruce-Munro	Santa Cruz, CA	2014-09-28	General Harney was a mass murderer.

Miles Kimock	Fairfax, CA	2014-09-29	Its the right thing to do.
Wendie Goetz	Newton, NJ	2014-09-29	Honor and respect our lands, they truly belong to the Indigenous Nations. Honor the Treaties.
mike harmon sr	Mission, SD	2014-09-29	such beautiful formations named after a holy man would be much more appropriate than a military general.
Patricia penn-low	Kinross, United Kingdom	2014-09-29	I think the original name is much prettier and wiser than Barney appears to have been.
Ellen Roskovich	Moscow, ID	2014-09-30	It needs to be recognized by it's true name. margaret Jamison	Denver, CO	2014-09-30	I was at the Unity Concert. I saw the pain of our people. Let's bring healing and justice in anyway we can!
Elise Martin	boulder, CO	2014-10-02	Tongue tied. Important for so many reasons. *Need to "give back" the land..that was "taken" ...before it was lived on honour the connection to nature see the facts-what happened, what is happening -appalling --and do something to change* respect * Care for each other * Because what's happened and going on relatively unchallenged is wrong and needs us-me- to do something...so im open to more than signing a petition Cathy if you could use some help. xo
Don Yates	San Francisco, CA	2014-10-05	I believe Barney's name should be removed and that the Native name be restored.
Karen K Little Thunder	Mission, SD	2014-10-06	This is important to me because Harney killed my ancestors.
Patrick Wood	London, ON	2014-10-11	Too many times, the names of our sacred places, are changed, without any regard for our culture, why this particular area, (Mountain, park, etc.), is sacred to us. One of the worst I have seen in the last few years here in Canada, was the renaming of a number of our islands in Canada's North, by the Quebec government. These were named after a number of government politicians without any consultation with our Nations, nor even caring about what we have to say. Apparently, our Nations have continued to call them by their real names!! Thanks for sharing thjis petition.
Mary Garner	Hillsboro, MO	2014-10-16	This is the right thing to do.
Sara Nason	Ullapool, United Kingdom	2014-10-18	It's an insult to name a sacred place after a man who massacred native people.

John Leclair	Cranberry Portage	2015-02-15	It's long overdue.
Cindy Myers	Stuart, NE	2015-02-15	this is a sacred place to the Lakota. Prayer offerings are left at the peak. The Black Hills are still Treaty Lands to the Lakota.
Tara Hauki	Happy Camp, CA	2015-02-15	I'm Cherokee....it's the right thing to do.
chris redbird	spring creek, SD	2015-02-15	It would be honoring the Lakota, Dakota & Nakota Nations, as well as other Indigenous Nations.
Linda Putzel	Saint Petersburg, FL	2015-02-15	Changing the name, officially, back to "Hinhan Kaga Paha", the name it has always been called by the Lakota people to whom it is a sacred place. This would be one way of giving back something to the people from whom so much and so many have been stolen. Leaving it as Harney Peak is a painful reminder of the genocidal attack by Gen. Harney on a peaceful village of Lakota ancestors. Change the name, officially. Gen. William Selby Harney should not be honored for such wanton killing for there is no honor in genocide.
Twila Zephier	Mandaree, ND	2015-02-15	This is a sacred site and should be known only as that!!
Aveleena Feywine	Spearfish, SD	2015-02-15	Because it's the RIGHT thing to do! And Harney was a murderer.
Carol Lopez	Pinellas Park, FL	2015-02-15	It is wrong to have a mountaintop in Lakota territory named for a man who massacred the Lakota people. It is a shame that it was named that in the first place!
Susan Dahlseide	Red Deer	2015-02-15	I believe native names are sacred and should be preserved.
Becky McMillen	Scottsbluff, NE	2015-02-15	I believe we should honor the sacred places with names that reflect honorable history.

Karin Kaufman Wall	North Newton, KS	2015-02-15	It is at least one small symbolic change to address the horrific history of genocide against all indigenous Nations of this land.
delores allen	Rapid City, SD	2015-02-15	It needs to be restored to the original Lakota name for this region.
Stephanie Poafpybitty	Bloomfield, NM	2015-02-15	I'm lakota
Tanner Menard	Saint Francis, SD	2015-02-15	I'm signing because the name shouldn't be changed. It's been Harney Peak since I could remember, that's OUR land. Nobody else's. It should stay the same.
Dorothy FireCloud	Belle Fourche, SD	2015-02-16	the name is a desecration to a sacred place.
Arlene Younh	Saint Paul, MN	2015-02-16	being from SD and having lived on a reservation for 1 1/2 years, my father was an electrician...an honest one and many of his co-workers were not, and they got paid for work they didn't due. It's time for justice.
Dowell Caselli-Smith	Rapid City, SD	2015-02-16	Lets have more symbols that celebrate building a better world together rather than the killing of each other.
Karen WhiteButterfly	Manderson, SD	2015-02-16	Because it is only appropriate to change back to its original name - HinhanKaga
Janice Bad Moccasin	Prior Lake, MN	2015-02-16	i feel strongly to change the name back to Hinhan Kaga.
joe hubley	Middle River, MD	2015-02-16	right is right
